MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Management and Services

SUBJECT: Memorial Plaque

REFERENCE: Director of Personnel's Memorandum of 11 March 1974, same subject, to DCI

1. The DCI returned Reference to you for action, with a copy to me for information along with the following note:

25X1A

2. The November 1973 approval of the proposal for a Plaque provided that stars rather than names would be placed on the Plaque; under this arrangement there would be no security problem in adding stars to represent deceased clandestine agents. The proposal also provided that an unclassified "Book of Honor" would list the names of those deceased employees "whose names could be disclosed" but I cannot think of any probable developments in the foreseeable future that would permit the inclusion of the true names of clandestine agents in this Book. In a number of cases, including some of the most deserving agents, it would not even be appropriate for the true name to be made known to the Honor and Merit Awards Board.

3. In regard to deceased CIA employees represented by stars, I suggest that in addition to having their cases reviewed by the Cover and Commercial Staff before being added to the Book, it would be prudent to have a review also by the OGC. Any death case is the potential basis for claims against the Agency, and I note in the attachment to Reference some which have caused us substantial legal problems in the past.

Bill:

Reference is made to the Director of Personnel's memorandum of 11 March 1974, concerning the selection of CIA employees who lost their lives in the service of their country for commemoration on the Memorial Plaque. The DCI has now raised a question about

My initial reaction is that this opens a Pandora's Box, and adds an entire new dimension to the original concept and criteria. It primarily impacts on the DDO, however, and I would very much appreciate your comments or suggestions on how best to proceed with Bill Colby's proposal.
